

What is a “reasonable accommodation”?

A “reasonable accommodation” is a change, exception, or adjustment to a rule, policy, practice, or service that may be necessary for a person with a disability to have an equal opportunity to participate in and benefit from the housing programs. A reasonable accommodation must be requested, preferably in writing, in order for it to be considered and the disability and the need for an accommodation must be verified.

Can the Housing Authority deny a request for a reasonable accommodation?

Yes. A Housing Authority can deny a request for a reasonable accommodation if:

- the disability is not verified;
- there is no disability-related need for the accommodation;
- the accommodation is not reasonable;
- it would impose an undue financial and administrative burden on the Housing Authority. The determination is made on a case-by-case basis;
- it would fundamentally alter the nature of the Housing Authority’s operations; or
- there is an alternative available other than the requested accommodation.

Our reasonable accommodation policy can be found in the Administrative Plan at www.shra.org

If you have a reasonable accommodation related grievance or need assistance which your caseworker cannot provide, you can reach the 504 Coordinator , MaryLiz Paulson at 449-6346.
